Phoenix on the map again

The glitz and glamour of the prestigious Miss Uniworld contest (as previewed in The Rising Sun Vol.33 No.37 front page) has thrust local beauty, Soomaya Ibrahim into international stardom after she was crowned first princess in the Miss Uniworld Finals.

Phoenix's Soomaya Ibrahim, 24, a junior engineer, radio personality and model, was the first princess and model Denelle Ince, 21, Pietermaritzburg, studying toward a Bachelor of Education qualification at Unisa, was crowned second princess.

The Miss Uniworld SA pageant, hosted by Anusha Bisal, was held recently at the iZulu Theatre in Sibaya. Jemimah Kandemiiri, 22, from, Pretoria, who is a model and has her honours in forensics at Unisa, was crowned queen.

In an interview with Soomaya she said that she was delighted after being crowned the first princess, "This is such a honour. I am so happy that I was chosen as first princess. Imagine, throughout the country someone from Phoenix won this title".

Five-year-old killed in accident

A five-year-old girl was tragically killed when she was knocked down by a vehicle on the R102 near Phoenix on Monday afternoon. According to reports the young girl was attempting to cross the busy road with five other children when she was knocked down. She was run over by a silver Toyota Corolla that was northbound towards Verulam on the R102.

The child suffered serious head and bodily injuries and was declared dead by paramedics.

The deceased is a resident of Umzinto and was holidaying with her cousins in Cornubia near Phoenix. Reports indicate that the girl and the other children were crossing the road to take a short-cut back home.

At the time of the accident, the child was in the care of her aunt.

She was a Grade R pupil at Kenterton Primary School located between Umzinto and Ixopo in the South Coast.
