Good news awaits not only cancer patients but also other patients with chronic medical conditions - that is lupus, arthritis and diabetes, hypertension, depression, stress, migraine nausea and so on.

Thousands of patients internationally where medical cannabis has been legalised and consumed have either been cured or have found excellent relief in their symptoms and pain management. Medical cannabis is now available in South Africa and soon will be legalised.

The Phoenix North Coast Cancer Support Group is empowering patients on the medical benefits of this very effective natural medication, which is being hailed as the possible cure for most illnesses. At their Open Day, a few patients will get a free month's supply worth R3 000 and sampling of the products.

Roy Sukdhev, the founder of the PNC Cancer Support Group, said, "Our support group is currently busy forming strategic alliances with reputable companies to make this much sought-after miracle cannabis medication affordable and available via their support group. Respected companies like, Cannabis Therapy and The Bobby Greenhash Foundation will be sponsoring few sample packs to patients at their Open Day event. Patients will have the opportunity of having a free group consultation from 10H30 on the day. Those lucky to get the month's supply of products at no cost will have a free individual consultation".

The PNC Cancer Support will also be hosting their annual cancer-screening open day where free breast and prostate cancer screening will be undertaken on Sunday, 08 October, at the Mariammen Temple in Mount Edgecombe from 08H30 till 13H00.

Radio Hindvani will once again be partnering with the support group and broadcasting live from the event. Lunch will be provided courtesy of Food For Life. Cancer survivors are encouraged to highlight their cancer journey and victory on radio encouraging other cancer patients.

Those who have lost loved ones through cancer are also encouraged to pay tribute to their loved one's on air. Also on this day those that have lost loved ones in their fight against cancer will be encouraged to remember and honour them by lighting a Memory Candle at the event. Cancer survivors will also light a victory candle to celebrate their success in beating cancer.
